MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., May 15 .- President Edward Maher of the Union Railway by the plaintiff corporation itself. to-day settled the strike of the 250 Italof the trolley road in this city. The men had been out three weeks for $1.50 a day and eight hours' work. T. E. and E. Crimmins, the contractors, tried several times to put negroes to work in the place of the striknegroes to work in the place of the strikers, but they were frightened away.

To-day President Maher, having become desperate over the suspension, which threatened to hold up the summer traffic to Clen Island, Rye Beach and other Sound resorts, visited Mount Vernon and gave the contractors until 1 o'clock to put their men to work. They failed to do so and he took the matter into his own hands. He granted the demands of the strikers and they returned to work under foremen in the employ of the road. The company's foreman, Timothy Meehan gave work to all Italians who applied, but he would not hire a single negro.

> BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 15 .- Every trolley line in this city and adjacent suburban places was tied up to-day as a result of a strike of all of the motormen and conductors in the employ of the Connecticut Railway and Lighting Company. The strike was inaugurated this morning at 5 o'clock and the company was unable to run a single car out of any of its car barns all > day Over 100,000 persons were inconvenienced by the strike, which threatens to be bitterly contested by both sides. There has as yet been no show of violence by the strikers or their sympathizers, but every precaution has been taken by the company for the protection of its property.

> The strike was caused mainly by the company refusing to grant demands of the men for recognition of their union, establishment of a flat wage of 221/2 cents an hour, shorter hours and reinstatement of Motorman Thomas McGuire, who was recently discharged.

> The company has taken a firm stand against the strikers and will probably make an effort to reopen some of the city lines to-morrow morning with those of the strikers-some twenty-five-who have expressed a willingness to return to work under the former conditions and with nonunion men who have been brought from New York, New Jersey and other States. The company's position was set forth o-night by General Manager John Sewell, > as follows "The company believes that in the establishment of a new wage scale on June , agreeing to give the men shorter hours and to meet a committee of the employees at any time to consider grievances which may arise, it has treated its men fairly and will not recede one iota from its present position. On April 15 we formally notified the men, through their committee of these intentions.

AND WILL STAY SO THIS SUMMER. RUMORS TO THE CONTRARY.

Authoritative Announcement in Reply to a Threatened Tale About a Quiet Game Sub Rosa for the Elite-Police Will Enforce the Law and Canfield, for One, Won't Try to Dodge It, Friends Say.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, May 15 .- The story has been afloat in Saratoga to-day that certain persons in New York have got the notion that Richard A. Canfield, in spite of the flat which has gone forth that there shall be no gambling in the village this summer, will find a way to accommodate his wealthy patrons of former years who may want to sit in for high play. It was even stated here this evening that a New York paper will print on Sunday a story of Canfield's scheme o beat the authorities, with the aid of some of his influencial Saratoga friends.

The story, which has been widely discussed here, is, in substance, that when Canfield decided to remain abroad this summer the no-gambling announcement was made directly in his interest. Canfeld however, runs a high class restaurant in connection with his Saratoga club. This restaurant has been greatly enlarged and beautified during the winter. According to the story, Canfield is to send a representative here to open the restaurant about July 15. All other parts of the building are to be closed to the public, but very much under the rose.

Canfield's agent will always have some Canfield's agent will always have some of the rooms above stairs ready and manned for a select few of the old patrons. for a select few of the old patrons.

In this way, according to the tale, although all the other houses would be compelled to close, Canfield's could still keep the cream of the gambling business, and run the game so quietly as to make detection almost impossible.

The Sun correspondent carried the story to one of Mr. Canfield's oldest friends and he said:

and he said:

"To everybody who knows Canfield and knows the people of Saratoga, that's absolutely absurd. In the first place, the people of this village would never tolerate any such arrangement with Canfield or any-hard with him.

"The real meat in the cocoanut is, though, that Canfield would never put Saratoga and its people in any such situation. The people here like him and he is deeply appreciative of the many courtesies he has received at the hands of our people. Any time the citizens of Saratoga want the Saratoga Club closed, all they have to do is to tell its master so and he will close—not half way, but from cellar to garret. It has been so in the past, and it will always be so as long as Canfield owns the property.

"All that Canfield ever asked for was sufficient notice that he was not wanted so that he would not be put to the expense of paying an engaged house staff for an entire season when he could make no use of them. He has had ample notice this year and, whether he comes back from Europe or not, you put it down as settled that there'll be no gambling in the Saratoga Club this summer. And I doubt very much if even the restaurant will be open for a single day."

Police Commissioner Lewis had this to day. "It is not my husiness."

Police Commissioner Lewis had this to say: "It is not my business to discuss rumors, but in answer to a similar question some weeks ago, I said there would be no gambling houses in Saratoga this summer. I see no reason to reiterate that statement every fifteen minutes. If Mr. Canfeld or anybody also attempts or anybody also attempts or anybody also attempts or anybody. or anybody else attempts openly, or by subterfuge, to defy the law against gambling, he will be caught at the game and will be dealt with accordingly. I anticipate no trouble from the gamblers."

John Delahunty, one of the attorneys for John Delanunty, one of the attorneys for Canfield, said last night:

"I heard a tale something like that several days ago. There is no truth in it. You may state on my authority that neither the restaurant at the Saratoga Club nor any other part of the building will be open this summer." this summer

"Is Mr. Canfield coming back from Europe?" was asked.
"I know of no reason why not. For the past ten years he has gone to Europe in December and returned early in the fol-lowing June. I suppose he will follow his

KISHINEFF MASSACRE WILL DRIVE MANY FROM RUSSIA.

Jews of This City Expect Others of Their Race to Come Here as a Result of the Outbreak-Relief Committee Sends The Kishineff massacre and the serious outlook for the Jews throughout all southwest Russia were almost the only things talked of by the Jews of the lower East Side yesterday. Contributions to the relief fund continue to pour in to the committee at the rate of several thousand dollars daily. The relief committee yesterday cabled to Kishineff 25,900 rubles, or more than $12,000, making a total of about $21,000

o far sent by them. Jacob Friedman, the first fugitive from Kishineff to arrive here, will be cared for temporarily by the relief committee, which will also look out for other refugees who are expected to come here within the next few weeks. None of the relief fund money will be used for this purpose. Treasurer Kohn of the committee also said yesterday that it was the hope of those interested in the work to provide for the refugees and to send them South and West. "We certainly don't intend to pile them up in Hester street," he added.

The present disturbances and persecutions of the Jews in southwest Russia, it is believed, will result in a vast increase in the immigration of Russian Jews during the coming year. Mr. Friedman said yesterday that he had no doubt many from Kishinek and neighboring towns would come to America.

America.

The local Jewish newspapers continue to publish letters telling of the troubles in Russia. Most of the papers advertise that they will pay for all letters from Kishineff and neighboring cities telling of the outrages; but, as a rule, the recipients of the letters say they are only too glad to have the truth become known. One letter written by an eye-witness of the Kishineff slaughter, and printed in the Jewish Herald yesterday, gives a graphic picture of the revolting acts of the Russian mob and then goes on to say:

then goes on to say: then goes on to say:

If you imagine that this dastardly outrage was committed only by a wild, fanatic mob, without any leadership, you are greatly mistaken. One of the leaders was a notary public—a well-known personage of this city. Another was a well-to-do wine merchant. These two led the mob as generals lead an army. When the poor Jews and their wives and children were driven in the direction of the police stations they raised their hands and, with cries of agony, appealed to the police captains for protection. The only answer was a derisive laugh, and the two words, "Protch, Zshidy!"—"Get out! Miserable Jews!"

The police say now that they made investigations to find out the guilty ones. Nay, it is a contemptible lie! If that were a fact they could have entered the houses of the many city officers and found there all the gold and silver to the value of over a million rubies, stolen from the Jewish dwellings.

In the same newspaper was published

In the same newspaper was published also a letter by a Jewish writer who is said to be well known in Russia as "Scholem Aleichem," telling of the exodus of the Jews from Kieff, where the Government issued an expulsion edict against them some months ago. Recent cables have told how the Jews got a six-months' grace, and how, hoping for a respite, they lingered and have been compelled to sacrifice their interests. The Jewish Herald's correspondent adds some details to the cable news, saying: news, saving:

news, saying:

Reports from Kishineff which have been printed from time to time in the Russian papers have greatly excited the Christian populace and the Jews, rich and poor alike, in fear of their lives, are quietly, but hastily, departing, leaving their homes, stores and property behind them. Over $1,000,000 worth of property has already been abandoned by Jews who have fied. All the stores in the Jewish quarters have been closed, the rabbis have fied and all the synagogues are deserted. The chief of police has asked the Jews to return under promise of protection, but they have declined to come back. It is common rumor that a massacre will begin between May 18 and 20.

The date of the expected massacre would. The date of the expected massacre would be about June 1, according to our way of ckoning. This is the time of the Jewish Pentecost.

The Kishineff Relief Fund was increased The Kishinen Relief Fund was increased yesterday by $2,338,53, bringing the total to nearly $25,000. The largest contribution came from Secretary J. De Haas of the Federation of American Zionists. It was a check for $858 and brought the Federation's total contribution up to $1,000. Mr. De Haas said that the Federation expected to send a similar amount next wask to send a similar amount next week.
